Sample A

Which situation would most likely lead to a criminal trial?

- A Two homeowners disagree on the boundary between their properties.
- B An auto mechanic ruins a car's engine and refuses to pay for the damage.
- C A person is caught leaving a store with a watch without paying for it.
- D A newspaper delivery person accidentally breaks a window.

Sample B

Which of these has the authority to make laws?

- F the Cabinet
- G the Congress
- H the President
- J the Supreme Court

Notice that the answer choices for Sample B are FGHJ. Selected response answer choices will alternate ABCD and FGHJ.

In addition to selected response questions such as Sample A and Sample B, there will be constructed response questions that require a written answer. Brief constructed response questions, which require a short written answer, are labeled "BCR" below the question number in the Student Test Book. Extended constructed response questions, which require a longer written answer, are labeled "ECR" below the question number in the Student Test Book. The Rubric Sheet provides information about how constructed response questions will be scored. You may refer to the Rubric Sheet during the test.

Remember, read all directions and questions very carefully and choose the best answer for each question. If you are not sure about an answer, do the best you can, but don't spend too much time on any one question.

Answer all questions until you come to the end of Session 1, where you will see a stop sign. If you finish early, you may check your answers in Session 1, but do not go on to Session 2. You have 70 minutes to complete Session 1.
